Final Note by the Second Member of Council.

Subject:—

Promotions to certain Sub Assistant Surgeons.

While sanctioning the reorganization of the Medical Department in July 1918, the following scale of pay was fixed for Sub Assistant Surgeons:-

1.	Starting Pay	Rs. 35
2.	After 5 years' service	Rs. 45
3.	After 10 "	Rs. 55
4.	After 15 "	Rs. 65
5.	After 20 "	Rs. 65-5/5-70
6.	Senior Sub Assistant Surgeons.	Rs. 80 and 90.

2. In March 1919, the starting pay of Sub Assistant Surgeons was raised from Rs. 35/- to Rs. 45/-. While this proved advantageous to fresh entrants into the service, it acted as a disadvantage in the case of officers who had already put in some years of service in the various grades. The Senior Surgeon therefore took the opportunity of bringing to the notice of Government, in his letter dated 6th March 1920. the various anomalies and hardships that cropped up as a result of the raising of the minimum pay of Sub Assistant Surgeons from Rs. 35 to Rs 45 and submitted proposals for accelerating the promotions of the officers whose interests were affected. But the proposals did not commend themselves to Government and the Senior Surgeon was informed accordingly.

3. Thereupon, the Senior Surgeon again addressed Government in his letter dated 7th August 1920, urging a reconsideration of the orders passed on his previous proposals. The Financial Secret

6. The Dewan to whom the papers were then submitted for orders thought that the matter might be considered in Council. It was accordingly considered at the meeting of Council held on 28th April 1921 and it was resolved that the Senior Surgeon's recommendation contained in his letter dated the 7th February 1921 may be sanctioned.

7. In view of the wide discontent that was said to be prevailing among a numberof Sub Assistant Surgeons and of the spirit of revolt exhibited by some of them who declined to sit for their promotion examinations, orders giving effect to the resolution of the Council were issued on 21st May 1921 and the papers are submitted for His Highness' gracious perusal.

Over 20 years	Rs.70

To bring this scale into force it is absolutely necessary to give the promotions recommended in the list appended to this office letter No:G.C.320, dated 6th March 1920 as, otherwise, anomalies will result as illustrated under. Sub Assistant Surgeon D. Appa Rao, for instance, joined service on 25th September 1913 on a pay of Rs. 30/- which was the minimum at the time. This minimum of Rs. 30 becomes Rs. 35 with effect from 1st January 1918 in accordance with the re-organisation order. He completed 5 years of service in the last class of Sub Assistant Surgeon on 25th September 1918, passed the promotion examination and became eligible for promotion to the next higher class on Rs. 45 from that date. He will be entitled to promotion to the next higher class on Rs.55 only after completing five years' service on Rs. 45, i.e., on 25th September 1923. Thus he will have to be in the last class for another three years, in spite of his having already put in seven years' service, along with raw men who may join today and will be given Rs. 45/-. Such a state of things cannot but make the hands discontented and lead to inefficiency of the service.

It may possibly be argued that subordinates who have put in some years of service cannot leave it and that our requirements will be sufficiently met by merely raising the minimum pay to attract new hands into the service. But experience has shown that even this minimum has not helped to secure fresh applicants from outside. Thus the present condition is that while fresh hands are not attracted by the present minimum pay, the denial of consequential promotions to men who have already put in

Offg. Senior Surgeon with the Government of

To

The Secretary to the Government of
H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore, Revenue Department
Bangalore.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.G.14299-Med. dated 22nd January 1921, I have the honor to state that the Sub Assistant Surgeons mentioned in list marked (A) enclosed, had passed their promotion examinations during 1919 and 1920 and could have been promoted to the next higher ~~grade~~ pay under the old rules without any reference to Government.

2. The passing of G.O.No.G.19965-6-Med.114-17-4, dated 7th March 1919, raising the minimum pay of Sub Assistant Surgeons to Rs.45/- materially altered the situation and this office thought that the concession ought to benefit every medical subordinate in the department. But as this arrangement could not be given effect to without the sanction of Government, a general reference in favor of the Sub Assistant Surgeons referred to in the first paragraph and certain others who were all deserving of the benefit of the order of 7th March 1919, was submitted to Government with this office letter No.320, dated 6th March 1920. The correspondence that followed only ended with your letter No. G.12815-Med.46-20-12, dated 5th January 1921. It was in these circumstances that the promotion of certain Sub Assistant Surgeons, including those who had passed their promotion examination during 1919 and 1920, was pending before the Government till 5

i.e., to Rs.65, with effect from the dates noted against them, on which each completed 10 years' service from the dates of their confirmation. excluding periods of service not counting for promotion.

Nos.41 to 46 having completed 5 years' service after confirmation and having passed the promotion examination, have to be promoted to Rs.55 with effect from the dates noted against each. These men were only drawing Rs.35 the minimum of the grade till March 1919 and got Rs.45 on 7th March 1919 and it will be hard to make them wait for five years from March 1919 to get promotion to Rs.55 like those who joined the service in 1919.

4. As regards the observation contained in para 2 of your letter of the 5th January 1921 I beg to submit that this is the first time that anomalies of the kind have been allowed to occur. When the old scale of Rs.25, 40, 60, was changed into Rs.30-10/5-60 by G.O. No. 3181-2-Med.-128-10-5, dated 3rd November 1911, the allocation of the Sub Assistant Surgeons of the old list to the new one was made on the principle that each individual should get on and from the date of the revised order such pay as he would be entitled to if he had been started on the minimum pay of the revised scale. (Vide G.O.No.10935-6-Med.26-13-33, dated 1st May1914 sanctioning the allocation). The same principle was followed in the allocation of Sub Assistant Surgeons according to the re-organisation of 1918 (Vide G.O.No.12982-3-Med.29-18-5, dated 2nd January 1919.) Even in Madras, when the scale of Rs.50 rising to Rs.100 was sanctioned in 1918, each Sub Assistant Surgeon was given the pay which he would have earned on the date of the revision order if he had entered service on the minimum pay of the new scale, as the enclosed copy of letter No.87/4182, dated 18th June 1918 from the Office of the Surgeon General with the Government of Madras will show.

Under

5. Under these circumstances I request that very early sanction may kindly be accorded to the grant of the several promotions noted in the list marked (B) so that I may be enabled to remove a long pending grievance of these Sub Assistant Surgeons.

I have the honor to be,
